fall '08 tour highlights

It hardly seems possible that only last May '08 we were planning the Superhero US fall tour and all the consuming logistics which accompany such an international music ministry effort. How quickly (it seems) this tour cycle came and went. As always, God is so faithful and on this tour, we saw many accept Jesus for the first time, and many re-dedicated their lives to a deeper level in Christ Jesus. As musical evangelists, we live for this. Not only is it always good to see "the family" when we're on the road, but meeting new friends always blesses us.

The tour began by picking up Tim, Michael the keyboard player, Michael the drummer, Johnny the bass guitarist and Gavin the lead guitarist at the Baltimore-Washington International airport. From the airport we returned to Dave's (US manager) house so all could have one day to adjust to the time zone difference and enjoy a little Bar-B-Q cookout.

Our first stop took us about one hundred miles east of Pittsburgh PA to Ambrose Baptist Church where we enjoyed meeting new friends and our Friday night together. Opening for Superhero was the Silver Halo's. From there we pulled an all-nighter as we drove feverishly to make the next appointment in Grand Blanc Michigan. Saturday evening we played at Mount Hope Church and Sunday Morning we were asked to lead the Worship. We "LOVE" Mount Hope and the way they lovingly spoil us rotten, and then Sunday we went to a picnic after church and another bar-b-q!!! Woo-Hoo!!! We had fun playing a modified version of kick-ball baseball... And yes it really threw the band just a bit --from the land of great soccer players.

From Michigan we made our way back to Lancaster PA and enjoyed our time with Pastor Jay Frey at the Lord's House of Prayer in Mount Joy PA. From the Lancaster area we then headed next to New Freedom PA. Brittany Hanke (better known as Superhero's adopted kid sister) set-up an open-air free concert under a beautiful pavilion. Helping Brittany was her mom Donna and her father John who opened the Superhero concert with authentic Scottish Bagpipes in full Scottish dress and regalia. When he finished the crowd went nuts!!! It was so inspiring as well as impressive and really sparked Superhero. Opening for Superhero was Josh Harris and the worship band from Calvary Chapel of Delta PA - they rocked it out totally putting plenty of warmth into an otherwise chilly evening! From New Freedom PA we headed north to Groton Connecticut where we ate lunch in the quaint town of Mystic Seaport at Mystic Pizza where the original movie Mystic Pizza starred Julia Roberts was filmed. Invited to play at fall 2008 / spring 2009

Overtime '08 by Faith 2 Faith ministries, we saw many churches and youth groups converge for an all night rockin' lock-in'. About 800+ attended. From that exhaustive Friday night event we had Saturday off to rest, and then we were asked to play a few songs for Sunday morning worship services in Uncasville CT at Calvary Chapel. Thank you "Tom Da Bomb" and your entire staff for being such a Superhero ministry supporter and allowing us to spend such an enjoyable weekend with you. From Connecticut we headed back towards BWI airport where Superhero headed back to the UK HQ via Detroit, New Amsterdam and Finally Glasgow Scotland. The worst part for Gavin and Michael is those last four hours after arriving in Glasgow, then having to catch one more train which summed up twenty-four hours of international travel in total just to get home. Our fall tour highlights included seeing one hundred and thirty come to the Lord or rededicate their lives in the two weeks we were in the US. Another highlight included being asked to play in Venezuela, Australia and Poland.

Peace - Out from the Superhero HQ in the US and the UK.
